

Applied Practice Experience Deliverable Examples

AP Experience deliverables should be tangible products created by the student to support the learning activity and reflect proficiency in the competencies identified. Deliverables should be beneficial to the student and the AP site. At the end of the AP experience, students will be asked to upload deliverables for the AP Advisor to review and use to evaluate competency attainment.

Please work with your preceptor to identify appropriate deliverables that you should submit. In this process, you seek approval from the preceptor for submission of the deliverables to UIC. Deliverables will be kept in the student file and treated as course assignments for the AP experience.

If you experience any issues or concerns related to identifying appropriate deliverables, please contact your AP Advisor.
